INTRODUCTION

The Georgia Museum of Agriculture and Historic Village is where history comes alive, recreating farm and rural village life in Wiregrass Georgia from 1870-1910. The self-guided tour shows students how people lived and worked in a historic rural Georgia Wiregrass community. For groups of any size and age, this self-guided exploration of the Museum and 95-acre site makes for an exciting and educational visit.

Costumed interpreters throughout the Village will answer questions, describe artifacts and buildings, and demonstrate life as it was during the late 1800s and early 1900s. Our site includes period farm houses, an operating water-powered grist mill, a print shop, a one-room schoolhouse, and many more buildings. Also open for touring is our Museum of Agriculture and Gallery. Don't forget to stop by our 1900s Drug Store which sells drinks, floats, delicious hand-dipped ice cream, and lunch combos.

SELF-GUIDED TOUR SPECIFICS

The Self-Guided Tours are a wonderful option for groups with limited time, with large numbers of students only able to visit for one day, and/or for school systems on a tight budget. However, please be aware that you will probably not be the only group on-site that day. We often have multiple groups participating in workshops or tours on any given day. Below is a quick list of reminders to assist in your planning. Please share these reminders with your adults so they fully comprehend what to expect from the trip.

- Tours are welcome to visit any attraction (as long as it is open) at their own pace. Interpreters are available in most attractions.
- Tours do not include a historic lunch with their programming. If you enter a house while a workshop is eating, please be respectful and do not ask to join the meal. Please wait to enter the building with your group until the workshop lunch is completed.
- The Drug Store can become very busy in the afternoon with workshops. We suggest tour groups visit the Drug Store prior to lunch to avoid crowding. During this time students can purchase ice cream, snacks, or souvenirs. Store items cost between $0.19 to $20+. We appreciate your patience and assistance to ensure students know what they want and have their money before they reach the register. There is a $5.00 minimum purchase when using a credit/debit card.
- Group leaders and teachers are responsible for their students' behavior. Please make sure to keep your group together and be respectful of the surroundings. Many of the attractions are from the original time period.
- Don't forget the Museum Main Hall! The entrance to the Museum is in the atrium. Groups are welcome to explore this area; however, please be mindful of the artifacts and watch children at all times. No food, drink, or climbing of any kind are allowed. Please do not permit children to climb on or into equipment or vehicles, or to pick up and handle artifacts.
  - If damage occurs, the school/group responsible will be held liable for any monetary restitution for repair/replacement.

A train ride is not part of the self-guided tour; however, a train ride can be a thrilling addition to a tour! The train runs every Saturday, (except for the month of August) but does not run during the week. If you would like to include the train in your weekday visit, you must notify us to reserve the train no later than two weeks prior to your visit. This will ensure that we have time to schedule an engineer and conductors. If we receive less than two weeks' notice, we cannot guarantee a train reservation. Please provide one (1) adult group leader for every ten (10) students. Group leaders, teachers, and bus drivers have free admission. The Museum's Education Department will decide on the number of free adult leaders based upon your total student numbers. We reserve the right to reduce the number of free group leader admissions if your student numbers drop drastically. Please update your numbers with us no fewer than two weeks prior to visit. The number of group leaders allowed for your school is provided on your Reservation Confirmation form.

Teachers should be sure all group leaders understand their duties before the visit. Group leaders should:

- *Ensure students in his/her group behave appropriately.
- *Assist the interpreters in providing a positive learning experience.
- *Stay with their students at all times and help them move through the Village and Museum.
- *Be familiar with the site before arriving.
